

Privacy Policy

Nevra · Last updated: August 21, 2026

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how Nevra (“we”, “us”) collects, uses, shares, and protects information when you use our website, app, and services (the “Service”). By using the Service you agree to this Policy. If you do not agree, please do not use the Service.

2. Information We Collect

Information you provide

- Email address (when you register or sign in)
- Identity verification / KYC data (when required)
- Bank account and financial data (when you connect via Plaid or similar providers)
- Communications you send us

Information from your wallet & on-chain activity

- Public wallet address(es) you connect
- On-chain transaction history, balances, DeFi activity, and related public blockchain data used for credit scoring

Automatically collected information

- Device and browser information, IP address, approximate location
- Usage data (pages visited, features used, timestamps)
- Cookies and similar technologies (see section 7)

3. How We Use Information

We use the information to:

- Provide, operate, and improve the Service (including credit scoring and loan underwriting)
- Calculate credit scores and determine borrowing limits
- Process loans, repayments, and related transactions
- Verify identity and prevent fraud, abuse, and illegal activity
- Communicate with you about the Service, updates, and support
- Comply with legal obligations and enforce our Terms
- Analyze usage to improve the product (in aggregated or de-identified form where possible)

4. How We Share Information

We do not sell your personal information. We may share information with:

- Service providers who help us operate the Service (e.g. hosting, analytics, identity verification, bank data providers such as Plaid, credit scoring partners, collections agencies)
- Blockchain networks (wallet addresses and transactions are public by nature)
- Legal or regulatory authorities when required by law or to protect rights and safety

- In connection with a merger, acquisition, or sale of assets (with notice where required)

Third-party providers have their own privacy policies. We require them to protect your data and use it only for the services they perform for us.

5. Data Retention

We retain information for as long as needed to provide the Service, comply with legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce agreements. On-chain data remains public on the blockchain indefinitely. Account and KYC data is retained according to applicable financial regulations (often several years after account closure).

6. Security

We implement reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect your information. However, no method of transmission or storage is 100% secure. You are responsible for protecting your wallet keys and account credentials. We never store or have access to your private keys.

7. Cookies & Similar Technologies

We may use cookies and similar technologies for authentication, preferences, analytics, and security. You can control cookies through your browser settings. Disabling certain cookies may limit functionality of the Service.

8. Your Rights

Depending on your location, you may have rights to access, correct, delete, or port your personal information, or to object to or restrict certain processing. To exercise these rights, contact us at the email below. We will respond in accordance with applicable law. Note that some data (especially public on-chain data) cannot be deleted from the blockchain.

9. Children's Privacy

The Service is not directed to individuals under 18. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children. If we learn we have collected such information, we will delete it.

10. International Transfers

Your information may be processed in the United States or other countries where our service providers operate. By using the Service you consent to such transfers. We take steps to ensure appropriate safeguards where required.

11. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. The "Last updated" date will change. Continued use after changes constitutes acceptance. We encourage you to review this page periodically.
